DESCRIPTION

Unique in design, functionality and colour, the Fiona brushed nickel wall spout with mixer makes for a sophisticated and contemporary addition to any bathroom. Featuring a long spout and mixer tap combined on a singular square back plate, this versatile tap is designed to suit a basin or a bath. We recommend using it if you want a mixer tap instead of three separate tap pieces (which we know are annoying to clean), and if you are renovating on a budget and don't want to pay for the expensive process of moving your plumbing out of the wall and into your basin. This design will save you money and modernise your bathroom at the same time. It's a win-win!

- The Fiona is a contemporary bath or basin mixer
- Perfect to suit a round or square design
- The Fiona has a durable ceramic disc cartridge that is extremely hardy and does not undergo the usual wear and tear experienced by conventional rubber washers.
